A Panel Discussion on the theme "Women Empowerment" was conducted by the Programme Officers Dr. (Mrs.) Richa Sharma and Mrs. Kiranjit Kaur. The women inmates presented their views by saying that this day is more important in a country like India as women are not given the same platform as that of men. Women in India do not enjoy even basic rights, the number of sexual abuse and domestic violence cases against women and the number of issues against a women's health in India were the key issues that should be stressed. Mrs. Lakhani in-charge of the centre said that it is our moral, social and constitutional responsibility to uplift the plight of the women in our country so as to ensure their progress by providing them with equal rights and opportunities. Dr. (Mrs.) Jyoti Khanna, principal said that "empowering women should be a united approach; a cause that requires continued attention and that there is a need to augment our efforts for empowering women and enhances their progress. In today's world though a woman has the privilege to work, it does not free her from household duties. To manage these two aspects needs a lot of effort and strength which a woman is capable of. This day gives the world the opportunity to celebrate this capability." The celebrations concluded with a vote of thanks by the programme officers to Mrs. Lakhani in-charge of the centre.

8. Total Number of Seminars/Workshops Conducted

Eight seminars, workshops and orientation programmes were conducted in 2011-12:

1. National Seminar on “Promotion of Human Values and Ethics in Teacher Education” (23rd July 2011)

National Seminar on “Promotion of Human Values and Ethics in Teacher Education” (UGC Sponsored) was conducted in the college premises. Sh. Vivek Pratap Singh, IAS, Director, Technical Education and Industrial training, Punjab was the chief guest on the occasion. In his inaugural address, he said that a good and comprehensive education system is expected to create the necessary human capital and knowledge workers who will bring the country to greater heights. In this regards, a holistic education programme is needed which can equip students with both the hard and soft skills required as well as human values. However, the main emphasis in education today lies in acquiring large amounts of information, passing examinations and securing qualifications for future employment. The theme of this seminar seeks to improve the teaching-learning environment that will foster character building through the incorporation of basic universal values, thus, contributing towards academic excellence.

Dr. Rajul Asthana, MSSS, Kanpur was the key resource person in the seminar. In his keynote address he highlighted the importance of incorporating the subject of human values in education system. Education is the key determinant of conduct. Human education facilitates human conduct, otherwise education results in inhuman conduct. He was of the opinion that promotion of human values and ethics in teacher education renders potential to resolve persistent issues relating to 'self-discipline & confidence in students', 'developing an environment of trust and relationship', resource optimization and to reach a common goal of 'developing responsible and competent people of society'. He also discussed the content and methodology of inculcating human values in present generation. Participants from various education colleges from the region presented their papers on the sub-themes that included: Human Values for Holistic development, Human Values for Human Enrichment, Integrating Human Values in Teacher Education, Human Values and Professional Ethics. The presentations were followed by discussion among all present there.

2. National Interactive Programme (21.8.2011)

National Interactive Program-cum-Workshop on "Expanding Horizons for Quality Assurance: Preparation for Accreditation by NAAC" was organised in the college. A number of principals and delegates from education colleges of Punjab, Haryana and Himachal Pradesh participated in the programme. In the keynote address, Dr. Jyoti Khanna (Principal of the college) stated the purpose of the workshop as well as of the NAAC. She said "NAAC provides the intuitiveness to know about the strengths and weaknesses that helps us to identify the core areas for planning and initiates the institution into innovative and modern methods". Moreover it also helps to provide society with reliable information on quality of education offered. The delegates/participants from different education colleges were oriented regarding the process for accreditation from NAAC, consisting of a preparation and submission of a self study report.

3. Making Clothing a Matter of Concern (7.9.11)

A Workshop on "making clothing a matter of concern" was organised in the college campus in collaboration with "Goonj" an NGO working on a mission to make clothing a matter of concern, trying to use urban waste as a means of supporting the rural needy. Mr Anshu Gupta, Founder Director of NGO "Goonj" and NSS programme officers from different schools and colleges were among the participants. Sh. Bikram Singh Rana, State liaison Officer (NSS) U.T Administration, Chandigarh was also present on the occasion. Mr. Anshu Gupta through his power point presentation made the participants realise regarding the acute shortage of clothing resulting in various health related problems of women in different parts of India. He highlighted some hard facts of life as to how millions of people are dying of severe cold with no clothing to protect them. He inspired the NSS volunteers to organize collection drives and awareness campaigns in the nearby areas to collect the urban waste to help the rural needy. Dr. (Mrs) Jyoti Khanna, in her concluding speech, requested the participants to take it as a mission and not as a hobby and contribute to the maximum to make it a success.

4. Social Evils & Role of Education to eradicate them - An Orientation Programme (20.9.2011)

Dev Samaj College of Education organised an interactive session in collaboration with State Institute of Education, Chandigarh for the prospective teachers. Anti - Crackers Campaign

Before Diwali Anti Crackers Campaign - the proud initiative taken by the students of the college to sensitize children of various Government Schools around Chandigarh, towards limited or no use of crackers, a fascination for both the young and the old alike. To draw attention of the students towards the alarming conditions of the much suffering environment, various competitions cum informative sessions were organized.

To begin with, the junior sections marched round the premises with the slogan, "Say 'No' to Fire crackers and 'Yes' to life!" A paper reading competition was organized where students spoke about the harmful effects of Chemicals used in crackers & the pollution it causes. The facts and figures emphasizing the hazardous effects presented by children were an eye - opener.

The students expressed their concern and grief towards the environment and thousands of children employed in the manufacturing of crackers through their colorful drawings in the poster making and slogan writing competitions.

The Pupil Teachers also enlightened the students with the regulations set up by the Government to combat the menace and made them pledge to work towards a healthy and greener environment. To keep up the spirit of the festival, Greeting card making, diya decoration and Rangoli making competitions were also organized focusing on creative, safe and healthier ways of celebrating Diwali.

World AIDS Awareness day (1.12.12)

World AIDS Day is important for reminding people that HIV has not gone away, and that there are many things still to be done. With this motive, every year this day is celebrated in the college. The red ribbon is an international symbol of AIDS awareness that was worn by students of the college to demonstrate care and concern about HIV and AIDS, and to remind others of the need for their support and commitment. A number of activities including 'tying of the significant Red Knot', 'Poster Making', and 'Slogan Writing took place to mark World AIDS Day to express solidarity with those affected by the disease and to create awareness regarding the spread of aids and its prevention.

International Animal Rights Day (10.12.12)

International Animal Rights Day (IARD) was observed in the college to sensitize pupil teachers for the international acceptance of Universal declaration of Human Rights, which states that humanity must respect all animals' basic moral rights to 'life, liberty and natural enjoyment'. Human's ability to distinguish right from wrong demands that one should act ethically towards other sentient beings. Various activities were conducted in the college to achieve this motive that included speeches, self composed poems and essay writing competition to remind human beings that every creature on the planet deserves to be treated with equal kindness and respect. Dr. Jyoti khanna, principal of the college, while addressing the students on the occasion requested that “start with something little and together we'll soon be making a huge difference”, stop eating animals, buy cosmetics that are not tested on animals. It only takes a second to check the back of the product for ‘not tested on animals’. She further highlighted that millions of animals across the world are deliberately harmed by human beings. Yet humans and animals share the same basic senses, desires and emotions. All animals – not just humans – deserve the right not to be tortured and murdered. The day was concluded by taking the pledge by all “we will become their voice. We will fight for them, and we will win for them too.”

Observation of No Honking Day (16.1.12)

NSS volunteers of the College actively participated in ‘No Honking Day’ initiated by State NSS Cell, Chandigarh. The NSS volunteers participated in an awareness drive at traffic light points of Kissan Bhawan. They carried placards, passed out stickers and pamphlets, and raised slogans. They also interacted with people driving on roads and tried to persuade them to not honk unnecessarily and observe special silence while crossing intersections, schools, colleges, hospitals and in the night. Not only did they manage to send the message but also made it a pleasant experience.
