Ms Medhavi in her lectures explained that psychology is the scientific study of behavior and mental processes and values are the principles or standards of behavior; one's judgment of what is important in life. "Goals can be achieved, values cannot be achieved." it is a smart idea to align your goals with your values, so that the things you are trying to achieve are things that you intrinsically find important and allow you to experience meaning. She also highlighted the relationship between knowledge and wisdom and said that knowledge is really about facts and ideas that we acquire through study, research, investigation. Wisdom is the ability to discern and judge which aspects of the knowledge are true, right, lasting and abdicable to your life. Good value education develops positive attitude among students and it reflects from their positive behavior in the society as they perceive the situation in a positive manner and they don't just react but they respond to the situation which is accompanied by wisdom. This nurtures a balanced state of mind and controls the unwanted dual. The tips for positive behavior and value education she gave some references to the students by giving names of the books, e.links etc.

Lecture on Environment and Responsibilities (05-10-2017)

Dr. Amit Sobti, Associate Professor from department of UICET, Panjab University Chandigarh delivered the lecture on Environment and Responsibility. He explained we are well familiar with the environment, it is everything which surrounds us naturally and affects our daily lives on the earth.. In his pursuit of development, Man, in his search out for comfort and luxury, has explored and destroyed the equilibrium of the nature and ecosystem. All the living beings in the earth are living in harmony with nature. But only man, who is believed to be the protector of the earth, is doing the extreme opposite. Better late than never, now we need to change, at least a little by not doing any more harm to the nature. Human existence is purely based on the environment.

So development should have some border line so as to protect the nature from being over-exploited. We have to perform our responsibilities to protect the nature and natural resources.

We can be an example to the society by leading the charge in raising and spreading awareness about these practices, which is harming our environment. We can use our time fruitfully by involving ourselves in saving environment activity by taking part in it.

"We should show and lead by example. Others will follow it now or later."

Interactive Dialogue on Peace at Peoples Convention

Centre, Sector- 36, Chandigarh March 02, 2019

NSS volunteers along with Ms. Neeru Malik, Ms. Rajbir Kaur, NSS Program officers and Mrs. Charanjeet kaur, incharge Peace Club participated in Interactive dialogue on peace. Over 100 elderly people and youngsters joined hands to raise voice for Indian ethos of humanism and peace. This interactive dialogue was jointly organized by Peoples Convention Centre-36, Yuvsatta-an NGO, FOSWAC and NSS Unites of Dev Samaj College of Education, Chandigarh. The programme started with a two minutes silence for all Indian and Pakistani soldiers and citizens killed during recent conflict at Kashmir border followed by Prayer 'Bhla Chahna Mnushya Matra Ka' by the NSS volunteers. In the welcome address Baljinder Singh Bittoo, Chairman of FOSWAC said that India today is facing so many problems at all fronts be it illiteracy, poverty, hunger, malnourishment, unemployment, bad infrastructure, lack of housing, degrading environment and instead of talking on real issues political parties are raising bogey of religion and nationalism for no sane reason.

Mr. S.K. Setia, former bureaucrat added that this hate and war mongery had no place in Indian history, we are known world over for our values and spirit of 'Vasudhev Kutumbkam-living in harmony with man and nature alike'. And it's high time that all peace living majority people should come forward and demand peace, harmony and development from political masters.

Dr. (Mrs.) Agnese Dhillon
Principal,
Dev Samaj College of Education
Sector 36-B, Chandigarh.

Taking part in the discussion Reeta Kohli, a senior lawyer said that during any conflict it's the Women and children who are often the most vulnerable and prone to being hit the hardest. And throughout history we see examples of terrible abuses against women and children. So nobody can understand better than women the value of peace and harmony in society and globally, especially in context of India-Pakistan relations.

Shalini a student volunteers of Dev Samaj College of Education was of the view that young people should consciously censor the media channel, social media and newspapers and they should responsibly use or forward any story after verifying that its correct and doesn't promote any ill-will, hate or anger against any particular group or set of people.

Pramod Sharma, Coordinator of Yuvsatta added that in this 150th anniversary year of Mahatma Gandhi and in the present atmosphere of hate and war mongery, we have to spread the spirit of living with love, hope and forgiveness for lasting peace and harmony not only in India and Pakistan, but whole of South-Asia.

Mr. AS Paul of Peoples Convention Centre was of the view that India should readily accept the offer of Imran Khan to hold bilateral talks for peace and harmony. As diplomatic parlays, on the other hand have always borne fruits for both sides. Efforts must be made to bring people closer to each other. The region will flourish. Brainstorming by sensible people from both sides will also eventually zero in on a viable solution to the Kashmir imbroglio.

In her concluding remarks Prof. Gurdev Kaur, former Principal of Government College of Derrabassi, quoting Sahir Ludhianvi said that in a war, there are now winners. War leaves behind a legacy of plain losers. We don't gain a thing by launching wars, we just lose everything. Those who advocate for war are either totally naïve and ignorant about the repercussions of war between two nuclear armed countries or they ride on emotions fanned by people with vested interest in fuelling the armed industry further.

FACE MASK MAKING - AN AWARENESS DRIVE (19TH APRIL 2020)

COVID-19 spreads mainly from person to person through respiratory droplets. Respiratory droplets travel into the air when you cough, sneeze, talk, shout, or sing. These droplets can then land in the mouths or noses of people who are near you or they may breathe these droplets in. Masks are a simple barrier to help prevent your respiratory droplets from reaching others. All the students of Dev Samaj college of Education did their part of following the safety precaution by themselves wearing the face mask as required as well as helped the society by raising the awareness about the same. Students stitched the handmade masks at home & distributed it to the people around them.

World Environment Day

The NSS Units of Dev Samaj College of Education, Sector-36 B, Chandigarh celebrated online "World Environment Day" on 05.06.2020 with the aim to spread awareness about ecological balance. With the world fighting a pandemic together and most countries in lockdown, the environment seems to have benefited slightly. Nature seems to have been busy reclaiming its spaces. Among other things, it is getting to breathe and clean itself a little, in the absence of the constant flurry of human activities. Why is that important? It is, because just like other things, the environment needs some downtime, too. And human beings anyway have a tendency to take everything for granted, including the resources they get from nature. The air we breathe, the water we drink, the sun rays that reach us, and the food that we consume every day, are all gifts from the environment, and as such, it becomes important that they are respected, their values understood.

Poetry - Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat

Hai ek hi mudi nagri
Jahan dharmo ka sangam hai
Usa hai Bharat desh mein usapt
Har dharm aur manoranjan hai

Karnya balam ta geet lage
Sampoorna Hindustan
Kai kai mein bahe muleka
Vibhinn sanskrityon ko gun gan

Sabarmati se rachit bhav
Safed kutch ke roop mein saugat
Aur khendi ke byr mathoor
Hai hamara Gujarat

Atulye viraajato se bhavpoor ye mayi
Dimdiya ras hai jahan logan ki jaan
Dilon mein apne samaye bhakti
Anbe Maa ko karke saadar pranam

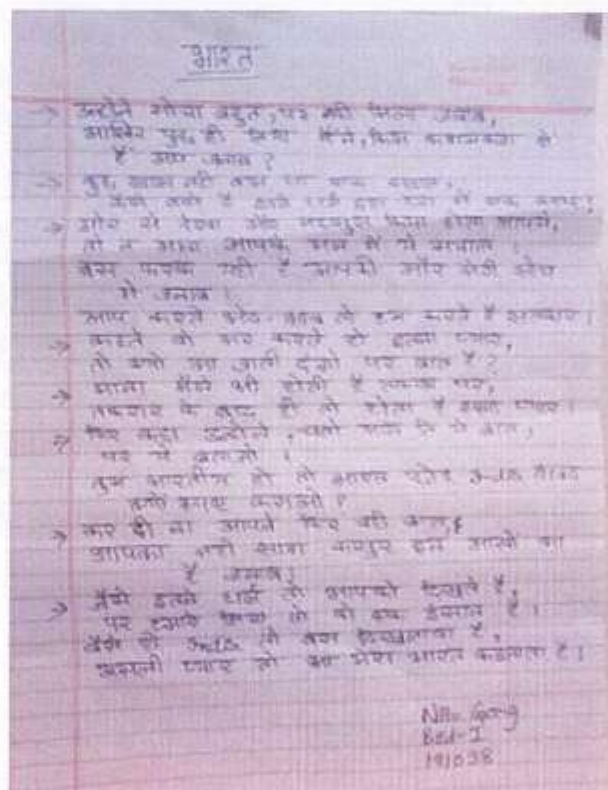

Gudi Padwa se Nav Varsh anantiki kam
Ganesh ubav se bhav mein mein mitras
Kahar shra hai aisi bhoomi
Shivaji ne kiye jahan nivas

Bait nauvari sare ki ho
Ye ho milke lavani ki
Anand maye lage dardhan
Sithinayek aur bharti ke bh

Yun toh sabhi rajyo ko mol hai Bharat
Rasmo se rashe samra khol hai Bharat
Jeevan mein vado ko gyan bhi upjaye
Hamara Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat

Virtual Celebration of Dev Samaj Festival: Pashu Jagat

Sh. Manoj Madan through his delicacy of expression pinpointed the urgency of the situation where animals are snatched away from their right to survive and how they are being exploited to satisfy the human greed. Utilitarianism governs the mind-set when it comes to the worth of an animal life. The vibrant and wholesome world of animals needs to be preserved. He accentuated on the point that it is the responsibility of each one of us to celebrate each life irrespective of its size and stature. Insightful anecdotes were shared among the students to reflect the beauty and wisdom of the animals. Students were made aware of the emotional aspect of the animal kind. Animals are highly empathetic and they have been the true companion of the human in this vast world of existence. Sh. Manoj Madan further manifested the idea of superficial food habits of eating another animal just for the satisfaction of the taste buds. He emphasized on the importance of animal rights and the provisions which must be introduced to safeguard them. He urged the students to realize and accept the significance of the other half which is the animal kingdom. The whole event left an impact and permeated the ideology of acceptance and respect for all the beings around us.

Virtual Celebration of Dev Samaj Festival: Pashu Jagat

The harmonious outlook towards the animals was kindled into the minds of the students. It infused in the insight of the world being a system of whole, where each entity has its due importance assigned. Dr. (Mrs) Agnese Dhillon, Principal of the college, shared her insights on the importance of integrated living by celebrating the festival of 'Pashu Jagat'. She adjured the students to lead a life of empathy and compassion. DAY 2 (28/10/2020)-The second session of the 'Online Art and Craft Workshop' organized by the NSS Unit of Dev Samaj College was held on 28.10.2020 under the able leadership of the NSS Programme officers, Mrs. Charanjit Kaur and Dr. Harpreet Kaur. The Resource person, Mrs. Santosh Verma, was cordially introduced by an NSS volunteer of the third semester. Mrs. Santosh Verma, through her expertise, very effortlessly demonstrated the art of moulding the 'Bastar Iron Art' form- a traditional iron craft of Chhattisgarh- where she carved out a deer not with iron but with the help of fevicryl mouldit clay. She specifically mentioned that the clay can be used to make some other shapes as well like that of an elephant or human. She also used some wires, cardboard and glass colours to give the mould a final finishing touch. She suggested the students to simultaneously use some talcum powder so that the clay is easy to manage and mould. She also advised not to make the legs and horns of the sculpture separately but to make them from the same mould. Through her skill she not only gave us a knowledge about the traditional Indian art form in minutes but also taught us how easily it can be crafted with the help of only a few materials and at a low cost. The item taught by her could be considered very economical in terms of both effort and time. She also taught the students how to make clay at home for making much more amazing articles. Over 55 participants attended the workshop on day two. The queries of the participants were answered by the resource person at the end of the session and the resource person was given formally acknowledged by the NSS programme officers before calling it a day.

students to prepare coasters in two ways. She started by mentioning the required materials for the art and then gave a detailed tutorial about it. At first, she taught how to make coasters using the dotted mandala art and clay. Later, she demonstrated the same technique using fevicyl 3D outliner. Apart from the tutorial, she also demonstrated how to use a brush for even strokes. She shared some useful tricks and tips associated with the mandala art activity with the participants. Along with that, she also shared a list of alternative tools which are easily available at home that can be used instead of specific tools to make the mandala art equally beautiful. She also mentioned about the colour contrast to give aesthetic appeal to the art. Then she answered the queries of the participants pertaining to both yesterday and today's session. She kept everyone motivated for the artwork and exhibited enthusiasm and creativity herself throughout the session. Apart from the activity, she also showcased few of her magnificent works and motivated others to do the same. An important suggestion that she gave today was to give finishing touches to our artwork using varnish so that the durability of the product is increased. The day ended with a thankyou note from an NSS volunteer. The NSS programme officers, Mrs. Charanjit Kaur and Dr. Harpreet Gill were also a part of this session.

DAY 4 (30/10/2020)-The fourth and concluding day of the online art and craft workshop began with a cheerful welcome address by an NSS volunteer. All the teachers of Dev Samaj College of education as well as the NSS programme officers, Mrs. Charanjit Kaur and Dr. Harpreet Kaur were a part of the event. The resource person, Mrs. Santosh Verma, began the workshop by answering some queries pertaining to yesterday's session and then listed the materials that will be required for the fourth activity, such as a piece of ply/wood or clay to make the base along with mouldit and acrylic colours. The fourth article that she taught was to make a pen stand holder using any waste material such as PVC pipe, foil roll or an old coconut oil plastic bottle. This holder can also be used to keep makeup brushes or other essential items. She went on giving a detailed tutorial about how to give different shapes to the clay for using it as a border on the bottle as well as for using it as a flower for decorative purposes. She suggested that one can also make the shape of a face with the help of clay, calling it as modern art. She directed that all the clay should be moulded in different designs while its texture is still soft and the clay work should be completed prior to the painting of the article. She proposed that the designs must be made using fingers and not tools like cutters and knives. Towards the end of the session, she taught some unique ways of preparing clay at home and also showed some of her other artistic creations. The queries of the participants were answered thoroughly by her pertaining to all the sessions so far. She also offered an opportunity to the participants wherein they can obtain guidance from her at any time beyond the workshop as well. This enthusiasm showed how passionate and dedicated she is towards her work. She also shared a link with the participants for submitting the images of the articles taught by her and for obtaining E-certificates. The workshop ended with a valedictory speech by an NSS volunteer. The NSS programme officers as well as the participants expressed their gratitude to the resource person for guiding them wonderfully throughout the workshop. The Principal, Dr. (Mrs.) Agnese Dhillon thanked the eminent resource person for devoting time from her busy schedule and conducting the workshop successfully. She also congratulated Mrs. Charanjit Kaur and Dr. Harpreet Kaur, Assistant professors and NSS Programme Officers of the college for the success of the event. The resource person too expressed her desire to collaborate with the college and conduct such similar workshops in the future as well.

A Lecture on Environmental Ethics : Issues and Approaches

By : Dr. Kamini Gupta

ENVIRONMENTAL ETHICS

Environmental ethics is the part of environmental philosophy which considers extending the traditional boundaries of ethics from solely including humans to including the non human world. Environmental ethics is about including the rights of nonhuman animals in our ethical and moral values.

Environmental ethics is the discipline in philosophy that studies the moral relationship of human beings to, and also the value and moral status of, the environment and its non-human contents.

Ethics is based on well-founded standards of right and wrong that prescribe what humans ought to do, usually in terms of rights, obligations, benefits to society, fairness, or specific virtues. "Being ethical is doing what the law requires." "Ethics consists of the standards of behavior our society accepts."

Dr. (Mrs.) Agnese Dhillon
Principal,
Dev Samaj College of Education
Sector 36-B, Chandigarh.

Glimpses of NSS Day-7 activities undertaken and attended by NSS Volunteers such as Zumba Session, Session on Self-Motivation, Lecture on Environmental Ethics, etc.

Issues :

Environmental ethics is concerned with the issue of responsible personal conduct with respect to natural landscapes, resources, species and non-human organisms. Conduct by persons is the direct concern of moral philosophy.

- Biodiversity is the most complicated and crucial aspect of our planet.
- Water pollution is a massive problem for us and our environment.
- Deforestation We need to have plants and trees to survive.
- Pollution.
- Climate Change.

Glimpses of NSS Day-7 activities undertaken and attended by NSS Volunteers such as Zumba Session, Session on Self-Motivation, Lecture on Environmental Ethics, etc.

APPROACHES

There are many different principles on which to draw in moral reasoning about specific environmental problems. This lesson reviews three basic pairs of principles: justice and sustainability; sufficiency and compassion; solidarity and participation.

Dr. (Mrs.) Agnese Dhillon
Principal,
Dev Samaj College of Education
Sector 36-B, Chandigarh.

The environmental approach examines the adaptation of individuals to their surroundings throughout their lives, as well as their ability to shape or change this environment.

Under this approach, education can lead to changes in green behavior and the incorporation of daily life pro-environmental choices. Then, environmental education teaches individuals how to weigh various sides of an issue through critical thinking and it enhances their own problem-solving and decision-making skills.

Mrs. Kanwaldeep Kaur (Retired Lecturer), Mr. Darshan Singh Koonar (Retired Lecturer), Mrs. Kanwaljeet Kaur (Student of DSCE Sec-36 B CHD Volunteer Round Glass Foundation) and Dr. Namrita Jouhal (College Co-ordinator, Research Project, HOD Psychology, Oxford International College , London) were the main panelist of the discussion panel. The meeting was formally co-ordinated by Mrs. Charanjit Kaur , the Programme Officer.

The webinar began with a brief Welcome adress for the Discussion Panelists, Principal, Faculty Members and the Students. Then Mrs. Kanwaldeep Kaur began the session with a beautiful poetry in Punjabi, highlighting the discrimination faced by married women. She explained how Discrimination disregards human rights and hampers the development of the advancing country.

The people of poor and under-developed countries worldwide are of the more danger of confronting discrimination depending on race, religion, sex and ethnicity. Mr. Darshan Singh Koonar was of the opinion that Discrimination of any structure disturbs the feasible development of the society just as the country.

Dr. Namrita Jouhal mentioned many causes of gender discrimination. The first one was Illiteracy. When people do not educate themselves, they continue to live in the old times. Thus, they follow the old-age sexist traditions and norms. Education can bring about a change in this mindset because educated people will less likely partake in gender discrimination. Further, poverty is also another reason which is interlinked in a way. It is the root cause in India because the economic dependence remains on the male counterparts mostly. Thus, women suffer a lot from it because of the same reason. They never get out of this and stay financially dependent on men.

Furthermore, the patriarchal setup in our society plays a big role. In this setup, the male dominates always every aspect of life. Thus, they consider themselves to be superior to others. This way, a lot of violence and injustice is meted out against females. Thus, when there is a gender considering themselves to be superior, it becomes difficult for everyone to avail equal opportunities.

Dr. Namrita then discussed the various impacts of Gender Discrimination. It does not just impact a specific section of the society but every part of it . First of all, it impacts children as they fall prey to gender stereotypes from a young age. Further, it impacts young people because it impacts their behaviour, study choices, ambitions, attitudes and more. Thus many girls do not participate in many sports and women experience physical violence more than men.

Next up, we have gender discrimination affecting adults because there is a gender pay gap between the working class. Men earn more for doing the same work as women. In addition, older women have more risk of becoming homeless than men.

Dr. (Mrs.) Agnese Dhillon
Principal,
Dev Samaj College of Education
Sector 36-B, Chandigarh.

It also impacts the aboriginal women because they have it a lot worse. It is more likely to happen that they can die from family violence, 11 times more than men. Even for men, it is not beneficial as it sets difficult standards for men to follow.

It draws a line on men being emotional, thus, they can never showcase their emotions truly without being judged. Similarly, men do not take or given parental leave in many places.

Ultimately, all this results in more suicide in men. Thus, it impacts everyone.

Mrs. Kanwaljeet Kaur further extended the discussion by giving various evidences faced by women in Indian society. For instance she provided the reports of various government surveys that highlights the inequality or the society. The session concluded with the sharing of personal ideas by the students.

The NSS Programme officers, Mrs. Charanjit Kaur and Dr. Harpreet Kaur thanked the eminent panelists for devoting their precious time and delivering such an informative session.
