About the Seminar

The New Education Policy 2019, formulated by the Ministry of Human Resources Development, is a step towards rectifying the practical difficulties being faced in the existing education system. The MHRD has proposed the revision and revamping of all aspects of the education structure, its regulation and governance, to create a new system that is aligned with the inspirational goals of 21st-century education, while remaining consistent with India's traditions and value systems. It is aimed to make the education system more dynamic and ready as per the needs of the society. Since the policy is quite overarching, spread across school education, higher education, teacher education encompassing research, governance and other key curricular and pedagogic areas, therefore, it is imperative to flag issues of concern. We know education is not, and cannot be neutral. Therefore, we always require dissecting the ideology any document is based on. There could be competing ideologies in education wrestling for the front birth, and perspectives too to how we see these ideologies in proper light. Whether the document is forthright or diplomatic in proposing the recommendations; whether the document shows inclusive and progressive spirit towards knowledge and education, or exclusive and greater puritanical predisposition. These, among others, are the various lenses that could be held in-between this document and ourselves so that we get a broad spectrum vision of the draft policy document.
